Common Core Standards - Resource Page

The resources below have been created to assist teachers' understanding and to aid instruction of this standard.

College and Career Readiness (CCR) Anchor Standard	Standard: RF.1.1a - Recognize the distinguishing features of a sentence (e.g., first word, capitalization, ending punctuation).
	Questions to Focus Learning How does knowledge of sentence features develop understanding of print concepts? Sentence features are part of the conventions of print which influence the physical structure of written language and text organization. Student Friendly Objectives Knowledge Targets I can identify a word. I know the meaning of first and last. I know the first word in a sentence begins with a capital letter. I know sentences have an ending mark. Vocabulary capital letter ending mark first last identify sentence Teacher Tips Vertical Progression RF.K.1 - Demonstrate understanding of the organization and basic features of print.

The above information and more can be accessed for free on the Wiki-Teacher website.
Direct link for this standard: RF.1.1a